A white shirt with a noble glossy sheen of fabric and with LUX trim in blue tones is an indispensable clothing option for all occasions. A winning combination of one of the most traditional colors – white and blue allows you to combine this shirt with most things and accessories. It can be worn independently under any trousers or jeans, or under a casual or formal suit for special events.

Attractive shirt features:

- The magnificent smooth snow-white fabric with a slight gloss is characterized by softness and elasticity.

- Natural material consists of 80% cotton, which provides a comfortable feeling during wear: pleasant when in contact with the skin, there is no static effect, sufficient air exchange, hygroscopicity and hypoallergenic.

- Velvet inserts in rich blue with a textured black Paisley pattern, giving the shirt an accent of luxury.

An Italian collar with more extended ends on the inside is trimmed with a placket of the appropriate shade. Single cuffs can be turned away, the inner side of the tint cloth does not have a velvet pattern. In addition to the attractive design, this model is practical due to the slight presence of polyester in the composition: it is less crumpled, it is easy to iron, this material dries faster and assumes a long service life.

An exclusive men's black jacket with a silky sheen of fabric and a velvet small pattern in the Baroque style is a complex textured element of clothing. This is a good choice for a man of any age and status, because in it you can be both elegant and courageous.

A chic jacket with a simple cut looks irresistible even without additional decoration and special finishing. A glossy surface with a gorgeous patterned texture is the main focus of this model. The manner of dressing with a touch of chic adds respectability, self-confidence, charisma to a man and increases interest in him from others.

A modern jacket can act not only as part of an official costume, but also as an independent piece of clothing that is worn with trousers that differ in style, material, and even shade. The right combination of this jacket with other things and accessories is the key to success in creating a representative, unforgettable look.

The predominance of viscose in combination with a small amount of polyester provides the product with an attractive appearance and practicality. It is possible to buy an extraordinary black jacket with a luxurious print and a spectacular lining from the luxury collection in our online store at an affordable price.

The classic white shirt in the original design will take its rightful place in the wardrobe of every man. The universal model will satisfy the owner's taste. A shirt with contrasting creative shades will fit under trousers or jeans. It will look harmoniously separately with a jacket or suit, suitable color scheme.

Features of the shirt:

- Unusual collar with inserts with three types of prints: the inner plank is floral in blue tones, the outer plank under the collar is blue with small polka dots, the edges of the collar and the Central plank are tropical patterns.
- Hidden buttons for buttoning the shirt, hidden under the lapel, and three blue decorative buttons at the top of the shirt.
- The sleeve can be twisted, the finishing of the wrong side of the blue cuff in small polka dots specifically provides a double way of wearing.

The predominance of cotton in the composition (80%) makes the shirt pleasant to the body and comfortable to wear. It freely lets air through, allowing the skin to breathe, which prevents the formation of a greenhouse effect under clothing. Hypoallergenic material does not cause irritation. A slight addition of polyester ensures practicality, easy care and a long service life.
